OBEDIENCE

Documents Stanley Milgram's classic research on obedience to authority, based on candid footage shot at Yale University. Subjects are told to administer electric shocks of increasing severity to another person. Both obedient and defiant reactions are shown, and subjects explain their actions after the experiment. This is the only authentic film footage of Milgram's famous experiment. CLOSED CAPTIONED. #40149, 45 min., $330.

HUMAN AGGRESSION

Depicts spontaneous occurrences of aggression seen in the activities of a youth gang, and relates them to scientific principles and laboratory findings. Includes Bard on the psychological training of police, Bandura and Walters' Bobo doll experiment, Milgram's work with group influences on aggression, Sykes and Matza on the legitimization of aggression in delinquent groups, and a statement by former Attorney General Ramsey Clark on aggression among the disadvantaged. #21887, 24 min., $230.

CONFORMITY AND INDEPENDENCE

Presents social psychology's main findings and principles in the areas of conformity and independence, using both field and laboratory settings to reinforce the interplay between experience and experiment. Included are Sherif's experiments on norm formation, Asch's work on group pressure to conform and Crutchfield's variation, Milgram's experiment on action conformity, Kelman's three processes of compliance, and Moscovici's recent theoretical views. #21885, 23 min., $230.

NONVERBAL COMMUNICATION

An overview of research and theory on communication through gesture, body posture, intonation, eye contact, and facial expression. Interviews Hall on interpersonal distance, Argyle on the equilibrium theory of eye contact, Rosenthal on sex differences in the perception of nonverbal behavior, Akaret on gestures and expressions in photographs, and Eibl-Eibesfeldt on biological programming. #21888, 22 min., $230.

INVITATION TO SOCIAL PSYCHOLOGY

An introduction to social psychology with emphasis on three questions: What is the subject matter of social psychology? What are its methods of investigation? And what are some of its findings? Examples include interpersonal events in a cafeteria, reactions of bystanders on a city street, Milgram's obedience study, and Zimbardo's prison simulation. #32074, 25 min., $230.

THE CITY AND THE SELF

A study of human relations in the city, based on psychological concepts formulated by Stanley Milgram. Examines city dwellers' perceptions of their city and their behavior in created situations. Harry Fromm. #50324, 52 min., $230.
